- Provide ad-hoc advice as requested where significant changes occur in the customer's situation such as entering aged care facilities, property advice, self-managed superannuation funds or other circumstance.

- Investment decisions are reviewable and hence a waiting period is imposed before implementation of the recommendations.

Context

As financial manager, our fundamental responsibility is to ensure a customer's financial affairs are managed in their best interest. This includes ensuring that funds are available to meet planned and unplanned expenses as they arise during the period of financial management.

Effective, efficient and accountable assisted decision-making requires a planned, multidisciplinary, documented and reviewable process that adequately considers the circumstances and financial situation of the customer.

Each financial planning customer will have an individual financial plan (Statement of Advice) for the investment of their funds, in accordance with the NSW Trustee & Guardian Cash Flow Investment Strategy and based on their individual needs and situation. The plan is reviewed each year to ensure it remains appropriate and continues to meet the customer's needs.

Financial planning advice is conveyed in a comprehensive Statement of Advice and although NSW Trustee & Guardian is AFSL exempt, the Statement of Advice is in accordance with the principles of the Financial Planning Association (FPA) and the Australian Securities and Investment Commission (ASIC) requirements.

We are also required to meet the requirements of the Trustee Act 1925 and therefore financial planners complete investment reviews for trust customers.
